

Empowering People to Reach, Grow, and Achieve.

We believe disability is a natural part of the human experience. Limiting potential is not.

Ray Graham Association's (RGA) 75 years of experience has proven that "providing care" must be the floor, not the ceiling.

People with disabilities can live, work, and become active members of their community. That's why our mission is ambitious: to empower people.

A Strained System

Government rates pay for the basics, but they do not pay for the innovation, the infrastructure, or the high-level expertise required to solve complex human service challenges.

RGAs Person-Centered Model

But a full, meaningful life requires much more than the basics.
This is where you step in.

Your investment in person-centered care has a powerful return:
dignity and meaningful independence.

An Empowered Life

By partnering with RGA, you're ensuring that people with disabilities have the resources and opportunities to live, work, and become active members of their community.
